BOARD OF SELECTMEN

1972-73

Chairman

Fellow Townspeople:

Certainly no review of 1972 would be complete without noting the retirements of a number of dedicated municipal officials. Police Chief Everett Dowe, Fire Chief Raoul Lavoie, Deputy Fire Chief James Thompson, Building Inspector Harold Bailey and Cemetery Foreman St. Clair Lawyer, provided Salem with well over a century of loyal service, and the community is a better one for their efforts. The Board of Selectmen wishes each of them a long, healthy and happy retirement.

During 1972 more than 100 citizens served Salem as members of various boards, commissions and study groups. The Board expresses its appreciation to them for their contributions to the Town.

TOWN MANAGER William L. Kelly

TOWN MANAGER'S REPORT

Growth continues to be the watchword in Salem. New housing starts picked up in 1972, over 400 units of apartment development were completed and commercial growth continues. The first store opened in the new Rockingham Mall in late fall and by spring of 1973 approximately 25 stores in the complex are scheduled to be occupied. Our first truly high rise building, the new Ramada Inn, is under construction in Keewaydin Shores and will open this summer. In addition, there have been several on-going changes along the Broadway strip.

We have also seen a modest but significant start on expansion of our industrial tax base with the opening of M.F.E. Corporation, who employ approximately 200 people, on Keewaydin Drive, and the expansion of other existing facilities. Salem will become more of a mecca for such light industrial development as manpower becomes more available and the economy again encourages growth and expansion.

The Town is becoming more aware of its people and its environment. The Housing Authority is moving ahead on the development of plans for elderly housing; we have also seen the start of some positive activity programs for our older citizens during the past year. Our community leaders and inhabitants are becoming increasingly concerned about our environment; how we can further protect it and enhance it. Unfortunately, we find that as programs move from talk to activity, there will be an increasing requirement for money to achieve reasonable environmental goals. Pressures for more rapid expansion of the sewerage system, a more permanent solution to solid waste disposal and the preservation of natural areas and open space, place an ever increasing demand for funding dollars on the community.

1972 saw the retirement of several municipal officials who have all contributed greatly to making Salem the fine community it is today. We are all indebted to them for their years of service and dedication to Salem. New names will bring new attitudes and direction to the community at large, but all are dedicated to making Salem the kind of community in which we all enjoy living, working and building.

A special thanks to the many who give of their time and talent to our special boards and commissions. No municipality can achieve its goals without the assistance and cooperation of all its residents. In order to be proud of our Town, we must all be willing to give something to it — not just take from it. When you believe it is the best, it is the best. Through continued efforts of your Board of Selectmen, the Town employees and you, Salem will continue to grow, serve everyone as economically as possible, and make each of you pleased to say "I'm from Salem, New Hampshire."

EDUCATION and TRAINING are key words in the Salem Police department program under the direction of Chief John P. Ganley (r.). He and FBI Agent Timothy Casey (beside him) organized and conducted a training session for bank employees in December. Standing with them at the Old Town Hall in Salem Center are the operating officers of the three local banks. Chief Ganley has continued and strengthened the in-force training program which existed when he assumed leadership of the department in mid-year.

The year of 1972 was one of change for the Police Department, in many ways. Perhaps the one change with the most impact was the retirement of Everett B. Dove who served the Town of Salem faithfully and well for thirteen years. Certainly the major credit for the current status of the Salem Police Department as one of the foremost in the State of New Hampshire must be given to Chief Dove. He will always be held in the highest esteem not only by the members of the Salem Department but by the New Hampshire Law Enforcement Community.

POLICY

As ever, the primary objective of a Police Department is to provide a safe community for its residents. A growing urban community free from crime and disorder remains an unachieved ideal. Nevertheless, consistent with the values of a free society, it is the primary objective of our department to as closely as possible approach that goal. In so doing, it is the department's objective to fairly and impartially enforce the law within the statutory judicial limitations of Police authority and the Constitutional Right of every citizen.

TRAINING

In order to provide a professional Police force we have constantly emphasized professional training. It is gratifying to note that over 70% of the department's full time personnel are attending College level programs, along with a number of our special officers. In addition four of our newest officers have completed an intensive six week course at the New Hampshire Police Academy, located at Pease Air Force Base. One of our patrolmen completed a twelve week course at the Delinquency Control Institute, of the University of Southern California. Two others attended an intensive seminar in Forensic Medicine, at the University of New Hampshire, and one of our officers participated in the program at Yale University at the Drug Dependent Institute. During 1972 one of our officers completed the Firearms Instructor Course, under the direction of the FBI, held in Wakefield, Massachusetts, and the department itself conducted Firearms Training Programs on two occasions in Salem. All our regular personnel and a number of our special officers took part in the Firearms program and qualified on the pistol course.

COMMUNICATIONS

Law Enforcement Agencies have spent billions of dollars to gather data and intelligence on crime and criminals and store the information in computers. New Hampshire has spent millions alone. This data is in the National Crime Information Center in Washington, D.C. and in State, county and municipal computers throughout the nation. The basic problem is that, in a system based on voice communications, the information stored in the computers seldom trickles down to the street Officer. Under our present system the Officer radios the dispatcher to query the computer and then waits for a reply. There is a time factor that is critical. We must reduce the time lag so that we can let the Officer know that he may be dealing with a potential killer even in seemingly innocent circumstances. In 1971 a total of 126 Officers were killed in the line of duty and in 1972 over 120. We can do some things to reduce this time lag and improve our present system. The "Trace" Computer Terminal System in New Hampshire will help. Salem is one of the key Police Departments in the state scheduled for installation of a computer terminal in 1973. The improvements suggested in the Salem Police radio system will also help. The proposed radio console will provide us with a system and hardware that will be the cornerstone of potential future communications improvements and innovations. Obviously a communications system is one of if not the most important tools on a Police Agency such as ours. Salem's unique situation of tremendous business growth being a "border" community, along with a constantly rising population and expanding recreation area featuring a race track and a popular amusement park along with our other attractions provides a myriad of associated problems that must be planned for in advance.

DEPARTMENT DEVELOPMENTS

The Salem Police Department at present has an authorized strength of 30 sworn personnel, 4 civilians and 40 special officers. The department's patrol division, through several new revisions in the patrol operation has increased its response capability and its patrol effectiveness. This, I believe, has been a major factor in providing a decrease in many areas of the reported crime index figures for 1972, as compared to 1971. In the area of establishing new services and improving efficiency, Federal Funding has been obtained to provide additional portable radios, so that officers remain in constant communication even when away from their patrol car, and so that more of our officers assigned to traffic posts may also be more efficiently utilized when needed.

ANTICIPATED PROGRAMS

As a growing, young, aggressive Police Department, we have plans and ideas that we would like to implement. Obviously because of limitations of many things, time, budget facilities, equipment or unforeseen problems that may arise, some of these programs have to be approached slowly. We have tried to improve the level of service we provide, within the framework of what is readily available. We are trying to plan ahead for the problems that will come with growth and change in our community. Several of these planned improvements are scheduled in phases over several years. Overhauling our communication system, providing new and innovative approaches to improve our services to the community, better patrol methods, more extensive specialized training, and stronger emphasis on crime deterrence are but a few of the things we hope to accomplish.

CONCLUSION

As a new administrator I am obliged to evaluate the condition of the department and to formulate and implement methods and procedures to effectively improve that status. It is sometimes difficult to make such an evaluation objectively. In an agency such as a Police Department there is of course no actual product developed as a result of our efforts. A Law Enforcement Agency deals basically in human behavior. Because there are many intangible factors that influence and control behavior, and most of these are beyond the ability or capacity of a Police Department to control, our overall level of performance must be judged with this in mind.

As I stated initially, our overall objective is to provide a safe community for our residents. I can say that Salem is a safe community today. My objective has been to establish standards of service and to guide the department towards achieving these standards. Occasionally we will revise these standards in an effort to improve and upgrade our service. The cooperation of the local citizens is an essential factor in the operation of a Police Department. I firmly believe that any community gets the level and type of Police service that it deserves and demands. Hopefully, in the years to come, the Salem Police Department will continue to merit the cooperation and support that its citizens have provided in the past.

Respectfully,
Chief John P. Ganley

LIFE AND PROPERTY--The Salem Fire Department's dual role, in the protection of both human life and property, continued to be manifest in the department's record last year. Firemen are called up regularly both to fight fires and, particularly through the ambulance service, to help people meet the inevitable emergencies.

Recommended additions for 1974

A serious lack of manpower was cited by the New Hampshire Board Of Underwriters in their most recent survey in 1969. At that time they recommended that a minimum of (12) firefighters be on duty at all times. Although more permanent personnel have been added to the department since that time the department still does not meet this minimum standard.

The fire department is anticipating the opening of a new sub station in the south end of town which will require additional firefighters to man it.

It is for these reasons that I will recommend at least (7) additional permanent firefighters in the budget for 1974.

The apparatus maintained by the fire department is in fair to excellent condition. A program of apparatus replacement was started in 1950 whereby the town would not be faced with a large expenditure to replace a number of vehicles in any one year.

In order to continue this program I would recommend the replacement of the departments Engine (4) a 1950 Ford pumper. This pumper is approximately (25) years old. Due to its age and poor mechanical condition it is no longer dependable for emergency service.

William E. Kingdon
Chief of Department

WATER DEPARTMENT-Ed Puzniak is Superintendent of the Water Department.

WATER DEPARTMENT

1972 was a very active year in Accounts Receivable payments. Nearly all of the accounts that have been classified delinquent in past years have been brought to a current basis. Those who have not paid in full are making scheduled weekly or monthly payments. For this achievement the department thanks all those who cooperated with our program. In fairness to the great majority who pay promptly, the department will continue these efforts through the year 1973.

In 1973 a comprehensive study will be made of existing facilities. The study will cover the complete range of subjects regarding the overall water system such as:

- The existing facilities.

- The need for mains strengthening.

- Elimination of dead ends.

- Quantity, pressure and source of fire flows.

- The capacity, type and location of storage facilities.

- The water supply, including safe yield, need for treatment, fire reserve and additional sources.

- Recommendations regarding system expansion.

- Recommendations regarding department records.

- Finances of the department, including number of customers, rate structure, miscellaneous charges and metering.

This study will serve as a guide to improve service, quality and future planning needed to guarantee sound operation and customer service in the years ahead.

ENGINEERING DEPARTMENT-Richard P. Smith (c.), Town Engineer, is shown with Anne Priestley, clerk, and Carl Merrill, engineering aid .

ENGINEERING DEPARTMENT

Three contracts were let for extensions to the municipal sewerage system in the Spring of 1972, one for the streets on the hill off Millville St., one for the Orchard Terrace area and one which covered the completion of various streets previously started. These contracts totaled some $400,000 and involved approximately 17,000 feet of mains. Plans, specifications, bidding and supervision of construction were all handled by the Engineering Department. The Millville Hill sewers are in service as are 75% of those on the miscellaneous streets, and the Orchard Terrace project is about 75% installed, altho not in operation.

In conjunction with the sewer projects, Taylor St., Franklin St., Irving St., Charles St. 900 feet of Howard St., Dunbar Terrace, Belmont St., Francis St., and 450 feet of Park Ave. were re-graveled and paved with bituminous concrete binder for the winter. In the spring these streets will receive a finish wearing surface. Also in the spring Asbury St., Hill St., Corliss St., A St., Gloria Road, Orchard Terrace, Smith St., Summit St., Joanna Road and Marianna

Road will be paved completely.

Also in conjunction with the sewer projects some $25,000 worth of drainage and 2700 feet of new water mains were installed. Spring work will include an additional 2500 feet of new water mains.

Field work was completed for the preparation of plans to extend Geremonty Dr. from Main St. to Meisner Drive. Near the end of the year necessary additional land for this purpose was acquired enabling construction to start in early spring of 1973.

The department was also active in the Route 28, Cluff Crossing Road project, sewer installations by private concerns on Cluff Crossing Road, Keewaydin Dr., Pelham Road and Main St., Veterans Memorial Parkway, and Joseph Road.

Planning Board business relating to sub-division approvals, etc., was also handled by the department; as was the issuance of 224 sewer tie-in permits and the related records.

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION--James Falls has the responsibility for two important roles in the protection of Salem's environment. He manages the sewage treatment plant and he is in charge of the solid waste disposal landfill operation.

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION

SOLID WASTE DISPOSAL OPERATION

From the stone age through the present day man has been struggling to adequately and healthfully dispose of his own waste.

Based on an average of six and one half pounds of waste per capita, national average, the ever increasing cost of waste disposal continues to spiral. Our increase in population and commercial establishments in Salem, there is estimated one hundred ten (110) tons of waste material per day to be disposed of at Shannon Road. In addition there is approximately twenty (20) tons per day of demolished buildings, wood products, stumps, boulders, trees, shrubs and leaves. This is a conservative estimate with seasonal variations.

The operation, seven days a week for sixty one hours a week has a continual drain on the mechanical capability of one machine, which is a major part of the down time during the past year, with the costs in excess of the appropriated funds. However, it is estimated that the cost of the material disposed of was $1.14 per ton.

During the coming year consideration should be given to other forms of solid waste disposal due to the costs, lack of fill for cover, effects on the environment for many years to come, and the ultimate use of the land.

Other methods suggested at this time are regional or local recycling plants; incineration central; incinerators in the neighbor areas, (at least eight are needed with a central plant for commercial disposal); these would vary in capacity to accommodate the waste load now and future; also, would be required to meet Air Pollution Control Standards.

True landfill sites in Salem cannot be found or justified due to the high water table and water shed areas.

It is requested that consideration for a back-up machine of a satisfactory type be procured for the continued operation now in existence by either lease, purchase or rented. If purchased, keeping in mind the use by other departments in the Town when of no use at the site.

Realizing the problems during the past two years of this operation, it is second to none.

SEWAGE TREATMENT PLANT OPERATION

With the invention of the valved water closet, man discovered stream pollution.

Prospects for abatement

Water pollution abatement in Salem today is not a ringing success nor is it a resounding failure. Apparently, stream degradation by organic pollutants is no longer on the increase; and technology may permit the achievement of similar results in regards to nutrient enrichment in a few years. There is a growing tendency to tackle water pollution on an area wide basis, an approach in which is being dealt with directly and is largely responsible for achieving the objectives of clean water. This approach coupled with exploding technology justifies optimism, despite the dismal history of water pollution.

Sewage Treatment Facility

The sewage treatment plant consist of primary sedimentation high rate trickling filter, being one short of the initial design and proposed for construction, secondary sedimentation, separate digestion and drying beds, chlorination, and complete testing equipment. The collection system consist of a separate sanitary sewer line at present in excess of eleven miles (11 mi.), and five lift stations. It is estimated that the replacement value of these two elements of the waste disposal system is seven million dollars.

During the past year the product treated at the plant was 276,053,000 gallons and an average of 753,250 gallons per day, attached is a graph, showing the average daily flow by the month. The cost of the treatment was .154 cents per thousand gallons.

Personnel

There are presently three people engaged in the operation and maintenance of the plant and collection system, all three have completed a Field Study Training Program by Sacramento State College, in cooperation with the New Hampshire Water Supply and Pollution Control Commission as prepared for the Environmental Protection Agency. Two have completed a thirty hour training program at Lowell Technical Institute, one is attending an advanced waste water treatment course at New England College, two have successfully passed the required certification examination by the N.H.W.S.P.C.C. during the year.

Federal and State Supervision

A representative of the Environmental Protection Agency, in July, made an inspection of the treatment facility with a highly satisfactory written report sent to the Town Manager.

A daily report is submitted to the N.H.W.S.P.C.C. each month and occasional visits by members of their staff, however, comments either adverse or constructive are rarely offered.

Plant Additions

It is desired that the additions to the treatment plant, as requested two years ago, be installed during this coming year, these are urgently needed to withstand our increased expanded collection system and per capita use basis.

Also, at this time consideration should be given to an alternate method of treatment of septic tank pumping waste other than at the existing disposal site, by which the land area is being used at a rapid rate with 2,054 loads with 2,464,800 gallons reportedly being disposed at a prepared site of Shannon Road.

Respectfully,
James Falls,
Plant Superintendent

RECREATION DEPT.

Dear Townspeople:

The year 1972 was a year marked by good and bad occurrences. We started the year off on a low note, with the Winter weather being so poor, that we could hold only one skiing class and the skating was greatly reduced. As we moved into the Spring, things began to pick up. The highlight of the Spring was the appropriation of money to start on the development of a Town Park, with matching funds from the Federal Government. At the time of this report, we are awaiting final approval on the program. Programs picked up in the Spring, and then in May, the weather took a turn for the worse and the summer was one of the wettest on record. This greatly hampered and made difficult the summer programs. We were fortunate in having a dedicated and capable summer Playground Staff, who did an excellent job under very trying and adverse conditions. The closing of Millville Lake because of pollution really hurt the Summer Swimming Program. The Swimming Instruction Program was completely wiped out and the Beach although it was reopened in August suffered in attendance.

The Fall got off to a good start with all programs being full and many people enjoying a variety of activities.

As we go into the new year we can look back over the past year and see several pleasing accomplishments. The beginning of a Girl's Softball Program; the huge success of the 2nd Annual all-Elementary School Field Day; the offering of an indoor golf and tennis program for adults; the expansion of programs for the Senior Citizens; the opening of the new wing of the Salem High School for additional programming. We look forward to 1973 with much anticipation as a year with much promise for continued growth and service to the community.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all of those people who have labored to bring to Salem the best possible Recreation program. Especially those who have served on the Recreation Commission and all those who have volunteered their services during this past year.

I look forward to continuing to work with all of you for a more comprehensive and better program of Recreation in 1973.

Sincerely,
Arthur D. Corbett
Director of Recreation

KELLEY LIBRARY

A library, according to the dictionary, is "a place where books may be read or borrowed."

The Trustees of Kelley Library believe, and hope that the community agrees, that Kelley Library has been much more than that in 1972.

But, what name can you give to the place where you can not only read or borrow books, but also use and borrow magazines and records, attend an art exhibit, listen to music, attend a meeting, pageant or flower show, view historical artifacts, contact your United States Senator, receive state services, make a copy of personal documents, attend a movie, or do any of the myriad of other things available at Kelley Library? We favor "Resource Center," but the name really isn't important. What matters is that the Library is being USED, 62 hours, and more, every week, all year round.

A review of the year's highlights can be found in the accompanying material, but these items were of particular importance:

The resignation of Mrs. Frank Bowser and the appointment of Mrs. William Lawton as Trustees. Both made valuable contributions through the year.

The first full year of operation under Director Ed Reed. Ed has brought new life and a hundred-and-one new, good ideas to the library.

Report of the Director

It seems only yesterday that I wrote my first report to you, the trustee's of Kelley Library. If 1972 could possibly be described in three words, I suppose I would choose ACTIVE, GROWTH and CHANGE.

Every library must respond actively and effectively to the needs of the individual and the community. The Kelley library, in its role of resource center for the educational, informational, cultural and recreational needs of the Salem community, spent the most active year of its existence. So many things have occurred this year that it would be difficult to include them all.

Student use has never been higher, as amply demonstrated by the crowded conditions in the reference area after school hours. Increases in school-age population are reflected in the pressures put upon the library — particularly in the juvenile and reference collection.

In an effort to meet this challenge, the reference collection continues to expand — one of our most important services is helping the community obtain the answers, find the facts and locate the source of whatever information is needed. Reference questions ranged from the role of Belgium in World War I to building totem poles. Spiders, sun dials, rug braiding, geiger counters, tax shelters, Chinese prison camps, motorcycles, parakeets, antique meat grinders — you name it, we probably answered a question

The hiring of Shirley Keefe as Assistant Director. In less than a year, Shirley has become an invaluable right hand to Mr. Reed.

The start of our new "library-within-a library." It has taken longer than anticipated, but we hope that our new youth library will be open by the time this report is read.

Finally, the institution of paperback books has permitted us to stretch our important (and always scarce) book dollars to the maximum extent possible. Salem's public library is, by any standard, "book poor," with only a fraction more than one book for each person in the community. Every recommendation in this area ranges upward from two books per capita. In fact, based on the latest available figures, our community ranks twelfth among thirteen municipalities in New Hampshire over 10,000 in population in number of books per capita.

In the coming year, the Trustee's hope to continue on the track of growth which was evident last year — growth in service, growth in capability, and most important, growth in use by people for that is the only reason we are here.

Finally, the Trustees wish to thank all of the members of our dedicated staff, for they ARE the library to most people.

Robert E. Kelly, Jr.
Chairman, Board of Trustees

about it this year.

New and active this year has been the business reference section. Its tax and investment services, directories, guides and manuals, etc., were all heavily used — to say nothing of the telephone directory collection.

The library has also been active this year in registering new borrowers, in circulating new books, paperbacks, magazines, records, pamphlets and newspapers. During 1972, in fact, the library broke every circulation record from January to December, ending with an overwhelming jump of 37% in yearly circulation.

Community services continue to grow apace — our copying machine has had its heaviest year — as has the 16mm film projector available free to community groups.

The Lancaster room continues to grow in use as more and more Salem organizations find it ideally suited to their needs. Altogether 307 meetings were held in the Lancaster room this year; one almost every day of the year.

The library collection itself continues to grow; 3,647 books and thousands of paperbacks, representing a herculean effort by the staff, were added to the collection to help meet the demands of the public this year.

The pre-school story hour was expanded this year from one to two sessions a week — culminating in to a presentation of the first annual Christmas pageant, which played to standing room only.

1972 was also a banner year for community displays, exhibits and special events. Pottery, paintings, ceramics, photographs; many arts and crafts by Salem people were on display or exhibited throughout the year.

The library continues to grow and change in other aspects, designed to keep up with growth and change of the community itself.

The Kelley Youth Library is now nearing its final shape, and 1973 promises to be a great year for the youth of Salem — the first year in their own library.

Many changes occurred this year within the library. After over 50 years of dedicated service to the community, Miss Alice Hall retired in July 1972. Though I knew Alice Hall for only a short time, I would like to pay special tribute to her cheerful and steadfast devotion to the young and old of Salem.

Nancy Marashio joined us in May followed by Ruth Seidell in July, who filled a position vacated by the retiring Alice Hall. In November, 1972 Nancy Marashio returned to teaching and her position was filled by Deborah Berlin. Both Ruth and Deborah make welcome additions to our staff.

The replacement of retiring personnel, in fact, always brings into focus the need to keep our standards high. The largest part of our budget is spent on salaries; we should always try to make positions in the library attractive to the best qualified people and to reward those who serve the library and the library community well.

Finally, 1972 has been a year of great challenge, of hectic activity and growth, of change, of determined efforts on the part of the staff to keep pace with these factors, to cope with the constantly enlarging needs of the Salem community. All in all, an exhilarating, challenging, and dynamic year for the Kelley Library. And, it goes almost without saying, my very special thanks to the staff, to the many friends and patrons of the library, without whose constant support none of this could have taken place; and to a most dedicated and hard-working Board of Trustees.

Respectfully submitted,

Edward V. Reed, Jr.

SALEM DISTRICT NURSING ASSOCIATION

The Salem District Nursing Association continues to be staffed by one full time nurse and one part time nurse. Their services are available to all townspeople, Monday thru Friday, 8 A.M. to 5 P.M. These services are performed on the written recommendations of a physician. A physical therapist is also available when needed — arrangements may be made by calling the office between 8 A.M. and 9 A.M., or 1 P.M. and 2 P.M. The telephone number is 898-4737.

A nominal fee is charged to those able to pay, but care is not refused to anyone unable to pay. The nurses can adjust fees for anyone who can make only partial payment.

The skin testing for T.B. has been taken over from the State Public Health Nurses and may be given at home or in the nurse's office, free of charge.

Many townspeople are not availing themselves of the nursing services and are urged to contact the nursing office if the need arises.

A total of 1517 visits were made during 1972. A breakdown of categories and age groups follows.

	Respectfully, Mary O. Brobst R.N.

HISTORIC DISTRICT COMMISSION

The Salem Historic District Commission met in January and it was voted to insert an article in the Town Warrant for the $1,000.00 to build up the fund so that we would have money to purchase, preserve, and maintain Historic sites within the district. This was passed.

It was voted to progress with the landscaping of the area in front of the old town hall, now covered with hot-top and to ask for $1,000.00 for the project as designed by Dan Orwig, a Harvard post graduate student. Selectman L. Belair stated that the $1,000.00 was to be put in the budget under funds for newly created Parks Department. This project was completed in late summer under the supervision of Russell Collins head of the Park Dept. and was a much needed improvement. Loam for the area was donated by Howard E. Turner. The Garden Club represented by Mrs. Belko, Mrs. Headley and Mrs. Earl Woodbury gave a tree for the area, which was greatly accepted. This tree was planted in memory of Louis Wefers, who was the Salem reporter for the Eagle Tribune. A tree planting ceremony was held.

Mrs. Evelyn Seed's term expired and the board wishes to express their appreciation for her faithful service to the commission.

The Selectmen appointed Mrs. Robert Gookin of School Street to replace Mrs. Seed.

Mr. Henry Corcoran resigned from the planning board and no one has been named to take his place on our board. We wish to thank him for his services.

The following officers were elected for the year; H. Turner Chairman, Mrs. Gookin, Vice-chairman, and the chairman was elected to serve as secretary.

Mrs. Muriel Killam was appointed to serve on the Parks and Recreational Facilities Development Committee, as requested by the town Manager William Kelley.

The residence of the late Florence Kelley, which has a good historical background was up for sale. The Commission would like to have this property preserved but the cost of the building in its present condition was more than we thought was practical. We hope that whoever purchases the property will preserve the architecture of this building which was moved from Windham over 160 years ago.

My term expires this year and I wish to thank the citizens for the opportunity to have served on this commission.

Respectively Submitted,
Howard E. Turner, Chairman
Mrs. Robert Gookin
Mrs. John Killam

SOUTHERN ROCKINGHAM REGIONAL PLANNING DISTRICT COMMISSION REPORT -1972

In 1972, the Southern Rockingham Regional Planning District Commission, which is composed of the member Towns of Hampstead, Kingston, Plaistow, Salem and Windham, engaged in various aspects of Regional planning.

The five member-towns with a population of 33,145 persons represents some 84.9 percentage of the total regional population. By reaching this representation plus other conditions established by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, the Region was certified for area jurisdiction. A minimum area population percentage of 75 percent in the member towns must be met if the Region is to be certified. In order to receive many Federal grants the Region must be certified for area jurisdiction and comprehensive planning. In June 1972, the Region was certified in both areas after it submitted its initial Regional Plan of Development. Certification means that the Region has been able to answer in a satisfactory manner a series of questions and requirements established by Congress and /or HUD. Due to the certifications received in June 1972, which must be renewed in July 1973, all Towns in the Region were eligible to receive Federal grants. In June 1972, the Town of Salem received a water grant of some $288,000. Grant requests are now pending for the Towns of Plaistow and Salem relative to open space acquisition or development for park purposes. Other Towns are urged to work with the Region to obtain Federal grants if this is their desire. Non-member Towns of the Region will not receive HUD grants for water and sewer improvements.

As part of the area jurisdiction approval, the Region is eligible to conduct A-95 Review and Comments. This means that all requests for Federal grants by Town, County, State or Federal agencies within the Southern Rockingham Region must be submitted to the Regional Commission for their review and comment prior to State or Federal action. An adverse regional commission comment can be the basis for a rejection of a community's grant request.

The Regional Commission is continuing its work of developing a Regional Plan and will have the open space component completed by June 1973. Other aspects of the plan will be up-dated so that necessary certifications can be continued. The introduction of revenue sharing will not eliminate those Federal grant programs most needed in the Region, such as water and sewer grants. The Region has made available to all member communities the services of its consultant, who works with selectmen, planning boards and conservation commissions on problems facing their Towns. In 1973, the Region hired a full-time Regional Planner in order to maintain its eligibility for Federal regional planning funds. In Federal fiscal year 1973 the Region, which is now a member of Sub-State Planning District Number Six by Executive Order of Governor Peterson, will receive $28,000 in Federal planning grants and $4,000 in State planning grants. Thus, even while it has increased the volume of planning work and assistance coming out of the Region, the cost to the member communities is approximately one-half of the 1972 budget request. Monies not used in 1972 have not been requisitioned by the Regional Treasurer. For 1973, the Region requests a continuation of the 75 cents per capita for each Town based upon the 1970 Federal Census. It is anticipated that the Region will only need some 35 to 40 cents of this per capita amount, but is necessary to request the entire amount since Federal funds have a tendency not to arrive on time, or the possibility always exists that they may not be forthcoming in any given year.

The Regional Commission believes that regional planning in the Southern Rockingham Region is progressing at a satisfactory pace and that it is meaningful and productive since it permits member communities to plan together, exchange information and to discuss mutual development problems. At the same time, it offers an opportunity to provide Federal grants to those Towns that elect to go after them. The Regional Commission believes that even greater advances in regional planning will occur in 1973, with the availability of a full-time professional planner.

ASSESSOR'S OFFICE--Assistant Tax Assessor Arthur Shurtlesf is shown with Beatrice Gladwin (r.), principal clerk, and Hannah Chaya, clerk. The selectmen themselves are, by statute, the assessors.
